WHO NEEDS SERVICE? WE ALL DO-THAT'S WHO

Every three months in my state, there is a Sunday when a lot of golf games aren't played, fishing trips aren't taken, church isn't attended, and families get quick-fix food instead of a home-cooked meal. The people who ordinarily would be doing these things have gone to the quarterly meeting of the Oklahoma Area Committee of Alcoholics Anonymous. Some got up early and drove more than 200 miles to be there at 10:00 am. They hear reports on what is being done, and make plans for future efforts, in such activities as public information, taking AA meetings into hospitals and prisons, helping to set up AA meetings at alcoholism treatment centers, providing speakers for schools and hospitals—and discussing how groups can be persuaded to come through with enough donations to keep it all going. "I think you're a bunch of nuts!" declared one of the newer members of my group as she tried, unsuccessfully, to resist my efforts to get her started in AA service. "Dedicated, but nuts. What do you get out of all this work? What does AA service have to do with my sobriety? Who needs it?" Although I have been deeply engaged in many aspects of AA service for more than ten years, I could sympathize with her objections. When I was pushed into becoming general service representative (GSR) for my group, I felt about the degree of enthusiasm as when I went to my first AA meeting: namely, none. Exactly the same thing happened. I fell deeply and permanently in love with AA service, just as I had fallen deeply and permanently in love with AA itself at that first meeting. Oh yes, I had answers for her. "What do you get out of all this work?" I can only hit high spots on this one. Describing all the rewards of AA service would take a large book. There is the satisfaction of trying to give to the Fellowship of Alcoholics Anonymous a fraction of what it has given to us. We talk a lot about gratitude. In service, we show it. You extend your AA acquaintanceship widely, making friends with dozens, perhaps hundreds, of men and women you would never meet except through service activity. And what a vital, enthusiastic, stimulating lot they are! You develop qualities of responsibility and leadership at the same time you gain in humility. This is not as contradictory as it sounds. If a member goes into service with nothing but a burning ambition to be elected to an office he considers impressive and important, he often fails to attain it. The one who puts personal ambition aside while he concentrates on doing the best he can with the task at hand is much more likely to be chosen for greater responsibility. Involvement in service is the best remedy known for boredom and the AA blahs. Have you ever, after a few sober years, found yourself wondering, "Is this all there is? Sure, sobriety and the group are great, but there must be something more." Maybe you're getting a signal that it's time to move into a new area of action, to begin flexing some mental muscles that are begging to be used. Service enables you to expand your Twelfth Step activity on a mammoth scale. Through it, you

Ask an AA if God is Dead

The recent "Is God Dead" controversy that has been crowding the pages of the newsletters and magazines and drawing reverberations from pulpits around the world sounds to many AAs like the quaint babbling of precocious but inexperienced children. Our reaction is bound to be like that of Roman Catholic playwright William Alfred, who quoted in Time (April 8, 1966, p. 83) as saying: "People who tell me there is no God are like a six-year-old boy saying there is no such thing as passionate love—they just haven't experienced it. Experience is the key word. The God-idea is not based on knowledge or understanding. AAs are no more capable than other people of defining God or reconciling the God-idea with the many evils of human existence. What we have had is a deep and effective spiritual experience that has not only freed us from the compulsion to drink but has completely changed our attitudes toward ourselves, others and God. We know that this change in our lives was affected by a power greater than ourselves, a power which most of us call God. We do not have to be able to explain or understand this power in order to know that it exists. We cannot fully explain many things whose existence is absolutely certain to us and by which we live: love, loyalty, honesty, honor—to mention only a few. What human reason can explain constitutes only a small part of human existence, but many agnostics are obsessed by a blinf faith in the power of reason, that is touching in its naivete. They are like the man who, after seeing a giraffe for the first time, protested, "There ain't no such animal." Of course, not all of us alcoholics were agnostics before we came into AA. But whether we were believers or non-believers we all had one thing in common: no power. We had all tried many times to stop drinking, realizing that it was undermining our lives and the lives of those around us, but we were totally unable to quit. Reason and self-knowledge did not help. Nor did the memory of past misery keep us from taking that first drink, again and again. Our moral code, effective in other situations, was impotent against alcohol. Our willpower could sometimes produce short, illusory periods of being dry, but always broke down sooner or later. We also seemed to get no real power from whatever God we believed in. Prayer, assiduous church attendance, meditation, service—none of these things helped. It was as though we were tuned in on the wrong frequency, a frequency set by our own limited self-will. We were asking for help all right, but we wanted it on our own terms. We wanted to keep the alcohol in our lives and go right on living as before, but without the ugly by-products. We wanted controlled drinking, not sobriety. What we did not realize was that we were asking for something that was completely impossible—because we were alcoholics. Alcoholics are people who cannot drink at all. They can never be normal, social drinkers. They can never take (Special note: TBAIC literature is available for distribution at the TBAIC meeting which is usually held the second Saturday of each month at the the Tri-County Central Office.) Tom F. opened the the September 13th TBAIC meeting leading the "Serenity Prayer". He distributed the Treasurer's Report noting the $1500 donation from Steps to Freedom. Other than literature, the only known immediate upcoming expenses will be mileage for Janine G. to attend the Corrections Workshop and the Area Assembly. Tom F. also reported that the Men's Prison Re-Entry facility on N 50th Street will be closing. Also, Buddy H. left word that everything is going well with the men's meetings at Faulkenburg Jail. Nancy B. had 2 volunteers cleared for Faulkenburg Jail. There may be another orientation in October for both women and men for Faulkenburg. Jim S. received 9 calls for Bridge the Gap and 7 rides were given. Thirteen volunteers added their names to the signup sheet that was at the TBAIC tri-fold display during the Tampa Bay Fall Roundup. Chris D. of E. Pasco County Men's meetings are going well. He is also involved with North Tampa Behavior Health and taking his sponsees there is part of their service commitment. Sometimes there may not be any attendees. Even though no one at the facility attended the meeting, a volunteer was there. He thought it was important to point out that our responsibility is commitment and service and that is being fulfilled. As a committee and volunteers we need to keep our commitments. Scott R. still is trying to fill 2 volunteer positions at ACTS on Henry Street. A new inhouse closed meeting at the men's DACCO facility will be at 6 pm on Tuesdays. Contact Luke V. 904-334-9007. Alan D., the Steps to Freedom committee meets every 3rd Sunday of the month 7 pm at The Club, 3333 West Columbus Drive and everyone is welcome. He is also working on Carry the Message (10/18) and the Gratitude Dinner (11/22) both at Christ the Kings Church. Ruth N. of E. Pasco Women's still needs volunteers. Meetings have been affected due to weather because of the layout of the facility. The next TBAIC meeting will be October 18th. There will be a presentation about the Man on the Bed Program. "We must carry the message, else we ourselves can wither and those who haven't been given the truth will die." ("The Language of the Heart" pg. 160

have a part in carrying the message to thousands of still-suffering alcoholics you could never reach in person. “What does AA service have to do with my sobriety?” Just about everything. If you are like most of us, AA service was what got you here in the first place. You, or the spouse, minister, doctor, or friend who suggested AA to you, had to have some prior knowledge that AA exists and some idea of what it does. You, or they. Learned something about AA from thousands of newspaper and magazine articles, radio and TV announcements, or talks by AA members to churches, schools, or civic groups. All these came about as the result of AA public information efforts, a basic part of our service program. When you were ready to give AA a try, you looked in the telephone directory and found it listed. When you dialed the number, there was an answer—from a central office or an answering service or an understanding AA member. We have plenty of miracles in AA, but this chain of circumstances was not among them. AA service had arranged the whole thing. Probably, the member who made the Twelfth Step call on you gave you some AA literature, or the group did at your first meeting. Remember what help it was when you were just starting? And isn't it still a help today? Years of work and many thousands of dollars went into getting that literature written, printed, and distributed, so it would be there when you needed it. This has been going on for about forty years, as a standard AA service. Perhaps, like many of us, you had your first encounter with AA when you were confined in a hospital or prison. Since you could not go out to meetings, AA service brought them “inside” to you. Your sobriety is not something spate and apart from AA service. Service has been there to help you, and you've been relying on it, every step of the way. “Who needs it?” I do, for one, and as we've just seen, you do. Besides us, there is quite a crowd of suffering alcoholics out there whose need is urgent. Let's not boggle our minds with trying to figure out how many of the earth's billions share our illness. In the United States alone, the best estimates we can get place the number of alcoholics at between five and ten percent of the total population. In view of the rapid increase in alcoholism, I suspect the larger figure is more nearly correct, but we'll be conservative, and say seven and one-half percent. That gives us 15,000,000 alcoholics in this country. Does anyone question their need for the service that helped bring so many of us to AA, and helped us achieve sobriety? And how about that average of five people per alcoholic whose lives are being torn up by the other person's alcoholism? If anything can offer a ray of hope to all those wives, husbands, children, parents, brothers, sisters, employers, employees, and friends, surely it is AA service, energetically spreading the word that recovery is possible. Now, we have the 150,000,000 alcoholics, and the 75,000,000 others being hurt by their illness, for a total of 90,000,000 Americans who need AA service. But the entity most in need of this service is the Fellowship of Alcoholics Anonymous itself. Our service structure, made up of thousands of people doing all kinds of AA work, is the force that keeps our growing Fellowship healthy, active, and able to adapt to our changing world. I do not think it an exaggeration to say that the very survival of Alcoholics Anonymous may well depend on this core of informed, involved, and intensely concerned people who make up our service structure. If the

“one drink,” because the first drink, sooner or later, sets in motion the chain reaction that leads to insane over-indulgence. Here, again, is a fact of experience that is no less real because it cannot be fully explained. No one has ever satisfactorily answered the questions: Exactly what is an alcoholic? Is alcoholism a physical or a mental disease, or both? When, how and why does it begin? To be sure, we all have opinions about these questions, and these opinions frequently illuminate some of the dark corners of the alcoholic syndrome. In my opinion, the psychological basis for alcoholism is present in the personality long before the disease becomes obvious. This psychic basis consists in an abnormally dependent attitude toward alcoholic beverages, a using of them for consolation, confidence building, revenge, the working off of resentments. A person with this attitude could be labeled a potential alcoholic. I also believe that, while there is certainly a physical side to alcoholism, the central problem is a psychological and a spiritual one. My reason for this rests on a differentiation between craving and compulsion. Craving is a physical, chemical phenomenon. One can have a craving for alcohol comparable to the craving one has at times for water, ice cream, cheese. One can also have a psychological compulsion to drink, and this compulsion can exist in the absence of any physical craving. I clearly remember rising out of my bed many a night without any physical craving for alcohol, but with an irresistible compulsion to drink, and being guided, zombie-like, downstairs and into the shed, where my compulsion dutifully poured me two or three stiff drinks of bourbon. I do not know, and I shall probably never know, when, why and how my compulsive attitude toward drinking began. But I am convinced that it was a symptom of a deep-seated maladjustment. We are told in our Big Book, Alcoholics Anonymous, that alcoholism is a symptom of self-will gone wild. We were persons trying to live by self-propulsion, actors who wanted to be directors, humans playing God. In this role we were not necessarily bad people. We could be lovable, patient, witty—only to turn into resentful tyrants when the environment and the people in it did not conform to the play we were directing. For all we know, our alcoholism may have been God's tool to bring us to our knees. As long as we were trying to do something about our drinking, we failed again and again. It was only when we stopped trying, gave up absolutely, admitted we were licked, and turned the problem over to a Higher Power, that we began to make progress. Note that we did not swear off for any specified period, nor did we swear off forever. Having finally learned not to impose our presumptive self-will on God's will, we asked for one day of sobriety at a time. One day at a time, we got it and are still getting it. The compulsion to drink, this mysterious mental “must,” is entirely gone. We do not have to fight the problem anymore. Soon we found that this habit of turning to God in the morning, during the day, and at night, was doing more than keeping us sober. Life was beginning to mean something at last. We could feel ourselves making progress. We gradually noticed that our attitudes on all sorts of things were changing,

Ward welcomed everyone to the Board meeting and asked if everyone had signed in and to turn down your cell phones. This was followed by the Serenity Prayer. Jim read the August minutes. Dave had a question concerning the budget. Did we spend more or less than the approved budget? We were actually in the red for the month. Motion to accept the minutes was made, seconded and approved. Sam presented the August Treasurer's report. It was noted that although Tim had made an extra $2200.00 for the month working at the Roundup, we still came out a few thousand dollars in the red. Contributions were less than what had been budgeted for that month. Ralph questioned why we were $2000.00 ahead last month and now $2000.00 in the red this month, again it was repeated that contributions were down. Ward talked about the progress on securing the money for our CD and that although it was coming along nicely, we still needed to push for All Group meetings and other Fund-raisers. Dave mentioned that his group, the Wesley Chapel Group couldn't do an All Groups but that they had raffled off a First Edition Reprint from GSO and had collected $50.00 for the benefit of Central Office. Diana noted that in West Pasco County that it is illegal to do raffles. Motion to accept the Treasurers report was made, seconded and approved. In Old Business Tim gave a brief rundown of his time spent at the Roundup. Discussion moved into the preparations for our Anniversary Dinner in February. A motion to have the event on February the 7th with the 21st as an alternate date was made and passed. A motion to have sell tickets at $20.00 failed. A motion to have presale tickets at $15.00 and $18.00 at the door passed. A motion to hold the event at Christ the King Church passed. A motion to have the dinner catered by Wrights Gourmet passed. A motion to allow people to bring in a covered dish passed. A motion to have Tim try to purchase a First Edition Big Book for no more than $300.00 off of EBAY passed. There was no New Business. Meeting ended at 7:43 pm. At the Council Meeting Sue read the August minutes. Motion to accept the minutes was made, seconded and approved. Sam presented the August Treasurer's report. It was noted that although Tim had made an extra $2200.00 for the month working at the Roundup, we still came out a few thousand dollars in the red. Contributions were less than what had been budgeted for that month. Motion to accept the Treasurers report was made,

Discussion then centered around the preparations for our Anniversary Dinner in February. There was a lot of discussion concerning when and where to hold the event, what food to be served, ticket price—etc. Al made a motion to have the event at Christ the King Church, Wrights Gourmet would be catering the food, tickets would be $15.00 and the event would be taped. Motion passed. Another motion to allow people to bring a covered dish was made, seconded and passed. Ward and Sue would look into the liability issue for holding the event at Christ the King. Al made a motion to have Tim try to purchase a First Edition Big Book for no more than $300.00 off of EBAY and this passed. More discussion followed about having some other raffle ideas like gift baskets, weekend spa get-a-way and whatever.

That accounts for what 39 Groups out of 213 Groups in our area have contributed in August. This also takes into account the 4 AAer's who contributed $150.00 in contributions anonymously, $50.00 in memory of Carol C., $59.00 from the 3 members who contributed to the Birthday Fund , $7.00 for the Dick D. Subtracting our Expenses from our Gross Profit gave us a Net Income of minus -$2,108.81 for the month of August. attitudes that we had not even realized were deficient. We found that many things that had formerly bothered us were not bothering us at all. Our dispositions improved. Our work, which we thought had been pretty good while we were drinking, got better and better. Our imaginations were fired, ideas came easily and frequently. As we took stock of this new situation, we wondered what had happen to the dull life we had so feared would be ours without drinking. Slowly life became zestful, more intense, more joyous than we had ever believed possible. Then finally we saw that AA sobriety is not merely non-drinking, not only the absence of something, but a plus—a new way of life, a progressive growth, just as our alcoholism had been a progressive death. We do not deceive ourselves into thinking that we have it made. We try to keep in mind the words of the Big Book: “We have been granted a daily reprieve contingent on the maintenance of our spiritual condition. We maintain this condition by spreading the word, by giving away the gift we have received . We maintain it by daily prayer and meditation and by regular attendance at meetings. We do this joyfully, without any sense of burdensome duty. It is a joy to see reflected in the faces of others the deep joy that we have received in our new way of life.” When you ask an AA whether God is dead, remember that you are questioning the reality of a power that has raised him from living death to abundant life, a power to which he turns daily for sobriety, serenity, and strength. Do not be surprised if he smiles with a tinge of sadness.

Existence of AA is ever in danger, it will not be from outside. It will be from uninformed, apathetic, and indifferent AA members. None of them means to do AA harm, but the flood of new people coming in, who have yet to grasp the importance of our Traditions of self-support, avoidance of public controversy, and personal anonymity, carries the possibility of damage to AA. Our best protection is a strong, growing, service-oriented membership—men and women who can instruct the newcomers about their responsibility to AA and, as soon as the newcomers' recovery permits, draw them into service activity. My new friend had a very good question when she exclaimed, “AA service...who needs it?” But I believe I have a better one: Who doesn't.

IN MEMORY OF: Wayne I. Wayne I., 73, of Tampa, formerly of LaFollette, TN, died Saturday, August 23, 2014. He is survived by four daughters, Rebecca Collins, of St. Petersburg, FL, Sabrina Fabian and Waynette Speakman, both of Tampa, and Amy Shook, of Columbus, OH; and by three sisters, Frankie Bacon, Martha Wells and Dorothy Mize, all of LaFollette, TN; and eight grandchildren. Mr. Ivey was a US Army veteran of the Vietnam War. Services will take place at 2 p.m. Sunday, September 07, 2014, at Bayshore Baptist Church, 3111 W. Morrison Ave., Tampa. The family requests in lieu of flowers, memorial contributions be made to The Club, Inc., of Tampa, an organization whose work Mr. Ivey strongly supported.

Editor's Note: I knew Wayne for the past 26 years. He was one of the first AA members I met when I first came to AA at The Club and I could always look up to him for support and guidance. Whenever I needed help at the Central Office for a 12 Step call, he was always ready and willing to help any drunk, day or night, wet or dry, he never said no. There aren't many of his kind around anymore. He will be missed. Wayne would have celebrated 37 years of continuous sobriety September 9th.

The 28th Annual Tampa Bay Fall Roundup was held August 29th thru September 1st, 2014 at the Sheraton Tampa East right off of Princess Palm Avenue. Although I worked most of the time there with a booth set up selling AA and non-AA material, I still had a great time. With around 134 customers and just as much Fellowship, we were able to sell a little over $2200.00 worth of merchandise. There were between 700 & 800 sober alcoholics having a good time with Fellowship, Food & Fun. If you didn't make it this year, hopefully you will next year. Thank you to the Roundup Committee for allowing us to participate in the Event. And if that wasn't good enough, Sue Z. from the Roundup Committee presented a contribution of $500.00 to Central Office from the Roundup at our September Board & Council meeting. The blessings keep rolling in. Thank You All!!! ☺
